

Sail22 and Quantum Sails are teaming up to provide on-site coaching, training, debriefs, and regatta support at the Bacardi Winter Series and Bacardi Cup to help you make the most of your upcoming season. Practice racing will be offered for the J/70 and Melges 24 classes before each respective event - December 17, January 26 & 27, and March 8 & 9. MarkSetBots will be on station with Ed Furry of Sail22 running practice starts and racing from his PC17 Pro Coach Boat. Quantum Sails will provide professional coaches on the water, and interactive debriefs after racing. You won't want to miss these incredible opportunities to elevate your game and kickstart your season.

Further details from Ed Furry about the format he's planning:

Melges 24's practice races start at 10:55am. We will do 3 starts with the 3rd one beginning a 1 lap race. We will then do 2 practice starts into a 2 lap race.

J/70 practice starts at 11:55am or just after Melges 24's are clear from their last start. We will do 3 starts into a 1 lap race and then 2 starts into a 2 lap race.

We will use VHF channel 72 which is the same as the regatta.
